

1 proof from the printer. Unfortunately, in the course
2 of transmitting from the regular printer working on Volume
3 2 to the print shop here, galleys comprising a number of 4 pages were omitted, so what you received on your desk
5 several days ago omitted perhaps 15 or 20 pages of the 6 memorandum.

7 They have since been reproduced, and could have 8 been put on your desk yesterday, except for the fact that 9 one appendix, which was needed, is not there.

10 They are being reproduced now. They will be 11 available this afternoon. All of the additional pages
12 will be placed on your desk. They do not go at the end.
13 The page numbers will indicate where they go. I believe 14 it is page 10A and pages 21 to 30 or 40, and one or more 15 appendices.

16 If you desire and will leave your original
17 memorandum and the additional pages on your desk
18 this afternoon, the page will disassemble and reassemble
19 the complete memorandum before you. If you desire
20 to take the memorandum with you for study over the weekend,
21 because it will be a matter to be discussed on Monday,
